Somewhere in England
Nov 13-1944

Dear Monsignor,

You no doubt received prior word of our change of address. We have now arrived at our destination somewhere in England. I hope to be able to contact any of the Fathers that may be located in England.

There is really not so very much to write about that can go there. Suffice it is that we arrived. The trip was very uneventful but interesting. Before leaving we did not take very many stipends and we would appreciate some. While we want the stipends - the stipend fee may be given to the foreign missions with my compliments.

For the time being there is no news. Give my regard to the clergy and especially to Archbishops Ruhlman & Beckman.

Sincerely

Thomas J Conroy
