

— Vilshofen, 6 Dec.
[1945?]

Dear Messrs. Foley,

Business first: I could pay that $75 to the Italian Messrs, but won't because he would be gyped. For $75 he'd get 7500 Lire, which are worth about $25 really. So, let's wait, and when things come down, he'll get $75. O.K.?

Breviaries: I was in Regensburg today, and ordered the two sets, de luxe, in red morocco. They hadn't them on hand so will bind them, and I'll get them January 15. Tell their Excellencies, "Merry