

plays. The Black Nazarene is a statue of Christ the King carrying the Cross, represented in the dark skin of the Philippino. The spring of this particular church is attributed to the intercession of the Virgin of Antipolo, which is, I believe, a district somewhere in these islands.

The Blessed Mother there was especially honored for her protection on journeys.

Met some Jesuits, a Benedictine, Fr. Owen Fehippe, from Zestira^{an} Augustinian. Also an S. V. D. who had been interned. No doubt you have read accounts of some of the happenings in the papers.

an S. V. D. church near us; offer daily Mass there.
