

As to chaplains in the service - yes - but let them be those who are confirmed in Grace not those who want a career - and use their priesthood to secure rank & prestige. I have seen too many of the latter type -

As to myself, I am about ready to call quits. If I can only get back to the States. Points I have them, but they don't mean anything as long as an interpreter is needed - So don't be surprised if I blow in on you - I don't think before time but I hope shortly after,

How are things about the doctors? You will have your hands full if this gang come back all at once - Remember us to His Excellency and say a prayer for -

Yours Truly
Thomas J. Conroy
