List Factors Affecting Religious Work: Excellent conditions here for organization of a real Catholic Army parish, if the work can be continued for some time. The continual, thoughtless changes of station of Catholic priests in the Army defeats much good.

General Remarks: The work of Catholic Chaplains in the Army is always hindered by the frequent changes of station and expectation of them. Perhaps something might be done to have priests left in a position for some length of time over the usual few months so some permanent things might be planned and accomplished.
